Open Government Licence
Re-use of images
Use of the Association's logo

Open Government Licence

All text content on this Cymdeithas Cyfieithwyr Cymru (the Association) website is available under the Open Government Licence (OGL) v 3.0 - <https://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/version/3/> - except where otherwise stated. If you re-use text content under the OGL, you must include the following attribution: Cymdeithas Cyfieithwyr Cymru, [name and date of publication], licensed under the Open Government Licence.

If you would like to re-use the Association's materials but the proposed re-use would contravene any of the conditions of the OGL, you should contact the Association's office (swyddfa@cyfieithwyr.cymru).

Materials downloaded from the Association's website is up to date. You should ensure that you are always using the up-to-date versions.

The Association updates its guidance and other materials from time to time. We recommend that you use the latest versions by referring to the Association's website.

The Association's intellectual property rights, including copyright in its materials, are unaffected by the Association's application of the OGL. These rights still belong to the Association.

Re-use of images

Images are not available for re-use under the OGL because in most cases copyright is held by a third party. The Association does not grant anyone any rights to reuse images.

Contact the Association by using the e-mail address above to ask permission and what, if any, additional conditions may apply. Your application should be in writing, specifying the name and address of the applicant, identifying the information source you want to re-use and the purpose for re-use.

For information about what we do with personal data see our Privacy Notice.

Use of the Association's logo

The use of the Association's logo in any place or by any means without the permission of the Association infringes the copyright held in respect of the logo.

We regard that use of the logo in any place, e.g. a website, document, indicates that the information has been prepared or approved by the Association. As such, use or reproduction of the logo in any form is not permitted unless the Association has permitted and approved that use. Permission to use the logo must be sought from the Chief Executive of the Association before the logo can be used.

The logo is only used on materials produced by the Association or where the Association has worked with the company/organisation using the logo or where the Association has granted permission for the logo to be used.

Special logos are provided for use by Full members, Interpreting Members and recognised Companies only.
